後期高齢者医療制度 Latter-Stage Elderly Healthcare System

75歳以上の人および65歳以上で、一定の障害があり、 申請に基づき広域連合の認定を受けた人は、国民健康保険 などの公的医療保険ではなく、後期高齢者医療制度に加入 します。それまで加入していた医療保険に関係なく、75歳 の誕生日から対象になります。

制度により、病院などで診療を受けた際の自己負担額は、 医療費の10%(一定以上の所得の人は30%)になります。 ※制度改正により変更になる場合があります。

confirmed by the Tokyo Metropolitan Association of Medical Care Services for Older Senior Citizens as having a designated level of disability upon application—join the latter-stage elderly healthcare system rather than public health insurance such as NHI. This applies to everyone from the day they turn 75 years of age, regardless of the health insurance plan they have been enrolled in until that time.

Individuals aged 75 and older—and individuals 65 and older

In this system, out-of-pocket expenses when a patient receives medical care at a hospital or other medical facility total 10% of the medical expenses incurred (30% for those whose income exceeds a certain amount).

* Please note that the system maybe revised and changed.

The Long-Term Care Insurance system was established to provide public support for the nursing care of seniors. Under this system, individuals carrying the insurance will be able to receive nursing care service when they are deemed qualified for such service.

Foreign residents aged 65 or older who have a permission of stay in Japan three months or longer, and individuals 40 or older who are members of a public health insurance plan in Japan will join the Long-Term Care Insurance system.

Payment of the Premiums

- Those 65 years and older: For residents who receive ¥180,000 or more per year from pension disbursements, the premiums are automatically deducted from their pension. Other people in this age category must pay using the payment forms mailed from the city or by withdrawal from a bank account.
- Those who are 40 to 64 years old: Premiums are paid with the public health insurance premiums.
